FESTIVAL MESSAGES

Premier of Victoria

Steve Bracks MP
Premier of Victoria

Capturing the creativity and enthusiasm of Victoria's independent artists for the past 24 years, Melbourne Fringe Festival is a great addition to Victoria's cultural calendar and one that my Government is proud to support.

Victoria is unmistakably Australia's cultural capital and this is no more evident than through the 3,000 artists who present works in all artforms as part of Melbourne Fringe each spring.

The State Government is pleased to support this unique festival which provides a platform for young, emerging and independent artists, reaches new audiences and is accessible to all Victorians.

Melbourne Fringe is a festival where audiences have the chance to experience the unexpected through a celebration of new ideas, new artforms and new perspectives on our world. I encourage you to support our independent artists and go wild at the 2006 Melbourne Fringe Festival.

Minister for the Arts

Mary Delahunty MP
Minister for the Arts

Whether you've got a firm foothold in the industry or taking the first step on your creative path, Fringe has been the forum to do so for the last 24 years.

Fringe has been a platform for some of Australia's best known artists, including Barrie Kosky, Rachel Griffiths, Judith Lucy and Wil Anderson.

Fringe provides a safe laboratory for artists to experiment with new ideas and push boundaries. The result is a program full of some of the most exciting and challenging arts experiences of our annual calendar.

Like Fringe, the Victorian Government, through our Creative Capacity + arts policy, supports Victoria's artists to create and present new work. Through a range of Arts Victoria funding programs we provide crucial funding to help get new ideas off the ground.

Access, community participation and creative engagement are the ideals that underpin Creative Capacity +. All Victorians, no matter where they live or what their circumstances, have the right to access and be involved in quality arts experiences.

The Victorian Government is once again proud to be a major supporter of Fringe. Here's to 19 days of the most culturally diverse arts experiences Victoria has to offer.

Lord Mayor

John So
Lord Mayor Melbourne

Melbourne Fringe Festival digs up the edgy, subterranean art that Melbourne is famous for.

Melbourne's finest arts attributes are never easy to find, that's what makes the experience of going out in our city so adventurous; you never know what you will encounter but, if you look hard enough, there is always a unique and inspiring reward.

It's this side of Melbourne on which Fringe thrives. The festival delivers fresh, new work across every discipline by the nation's best emerging artists. If it was mainstream it would lose its edge - that's why we have Fringe.

Since 1983 the Melbourne Fringe Festival has supported the development of creative artists. By connecting talented artists with passionate audiences, Fringe is vital to the sustainability of our arts industry and our reputation as the cultural capital of Australia.

With 245 events in a diverse range of venues, this year's program reflects the amazing diversity of cultural entertainment we enjoy in this city.

I hope you enjoy the 2006 Melbourne Fringe Festival.

Key Message Partner

Bronwyn Pike MP
Health Minister and Member for Melbourne

Arts lovers can veg out during the 2006 Melbourne Fringe Festival and not feel guilty about it.

This year's festival theme is healthy living and getting key ingredients for a balanced life.

That's why we're giving away $20 Queen Victoria Market vouchers every day of the festival as part of the Bracks Government's 'Go for your life' campaign to promote healthy and active living.

One lucky winner will also receive the big prize: a year's supply of fruit and vegetables and a pass to a healthy cooking class at Queen Victoria Market. Food for thought, indeed.

I am pleased to join some 200,000 Victorians and visitors as they veg out at the Fringe Festival.

The Age

Don Churchill
Managing Director Fairfax Victoria

The Age is delighted to be the presenting partner and official newspaper of the 2006 Melbourne Fringe Festival. The Fringe Festival is renowned for its original, lively and diverse performances, as well as uncovering some wonderful artistic talent. This year promises to be no exception. The Festival is a key part of The Age's support for the arts in Victoria which includes the Melbourne International Comedy Festival, the Melbourne International Arts Festival, the Melbourne International Film Festival and the Melbourne Writers Festival. We look forward to bringing Victorians the most comprehensive, quality coverage of one of Melbourne's great artistic events.

Melbourne Fringe

Kath Melbourne
Creative Producer

We are excited to announce a major partnership with The Age that propels Melbourne Fringe into a new era of exposure and recognises the value of our Festival to Victorians.

The Age 2006 Melbourne Fringe Festival is a diverse and creative snap shot taken through the eyes and minds of the best independent artists that Melbourne and the world has to offer.

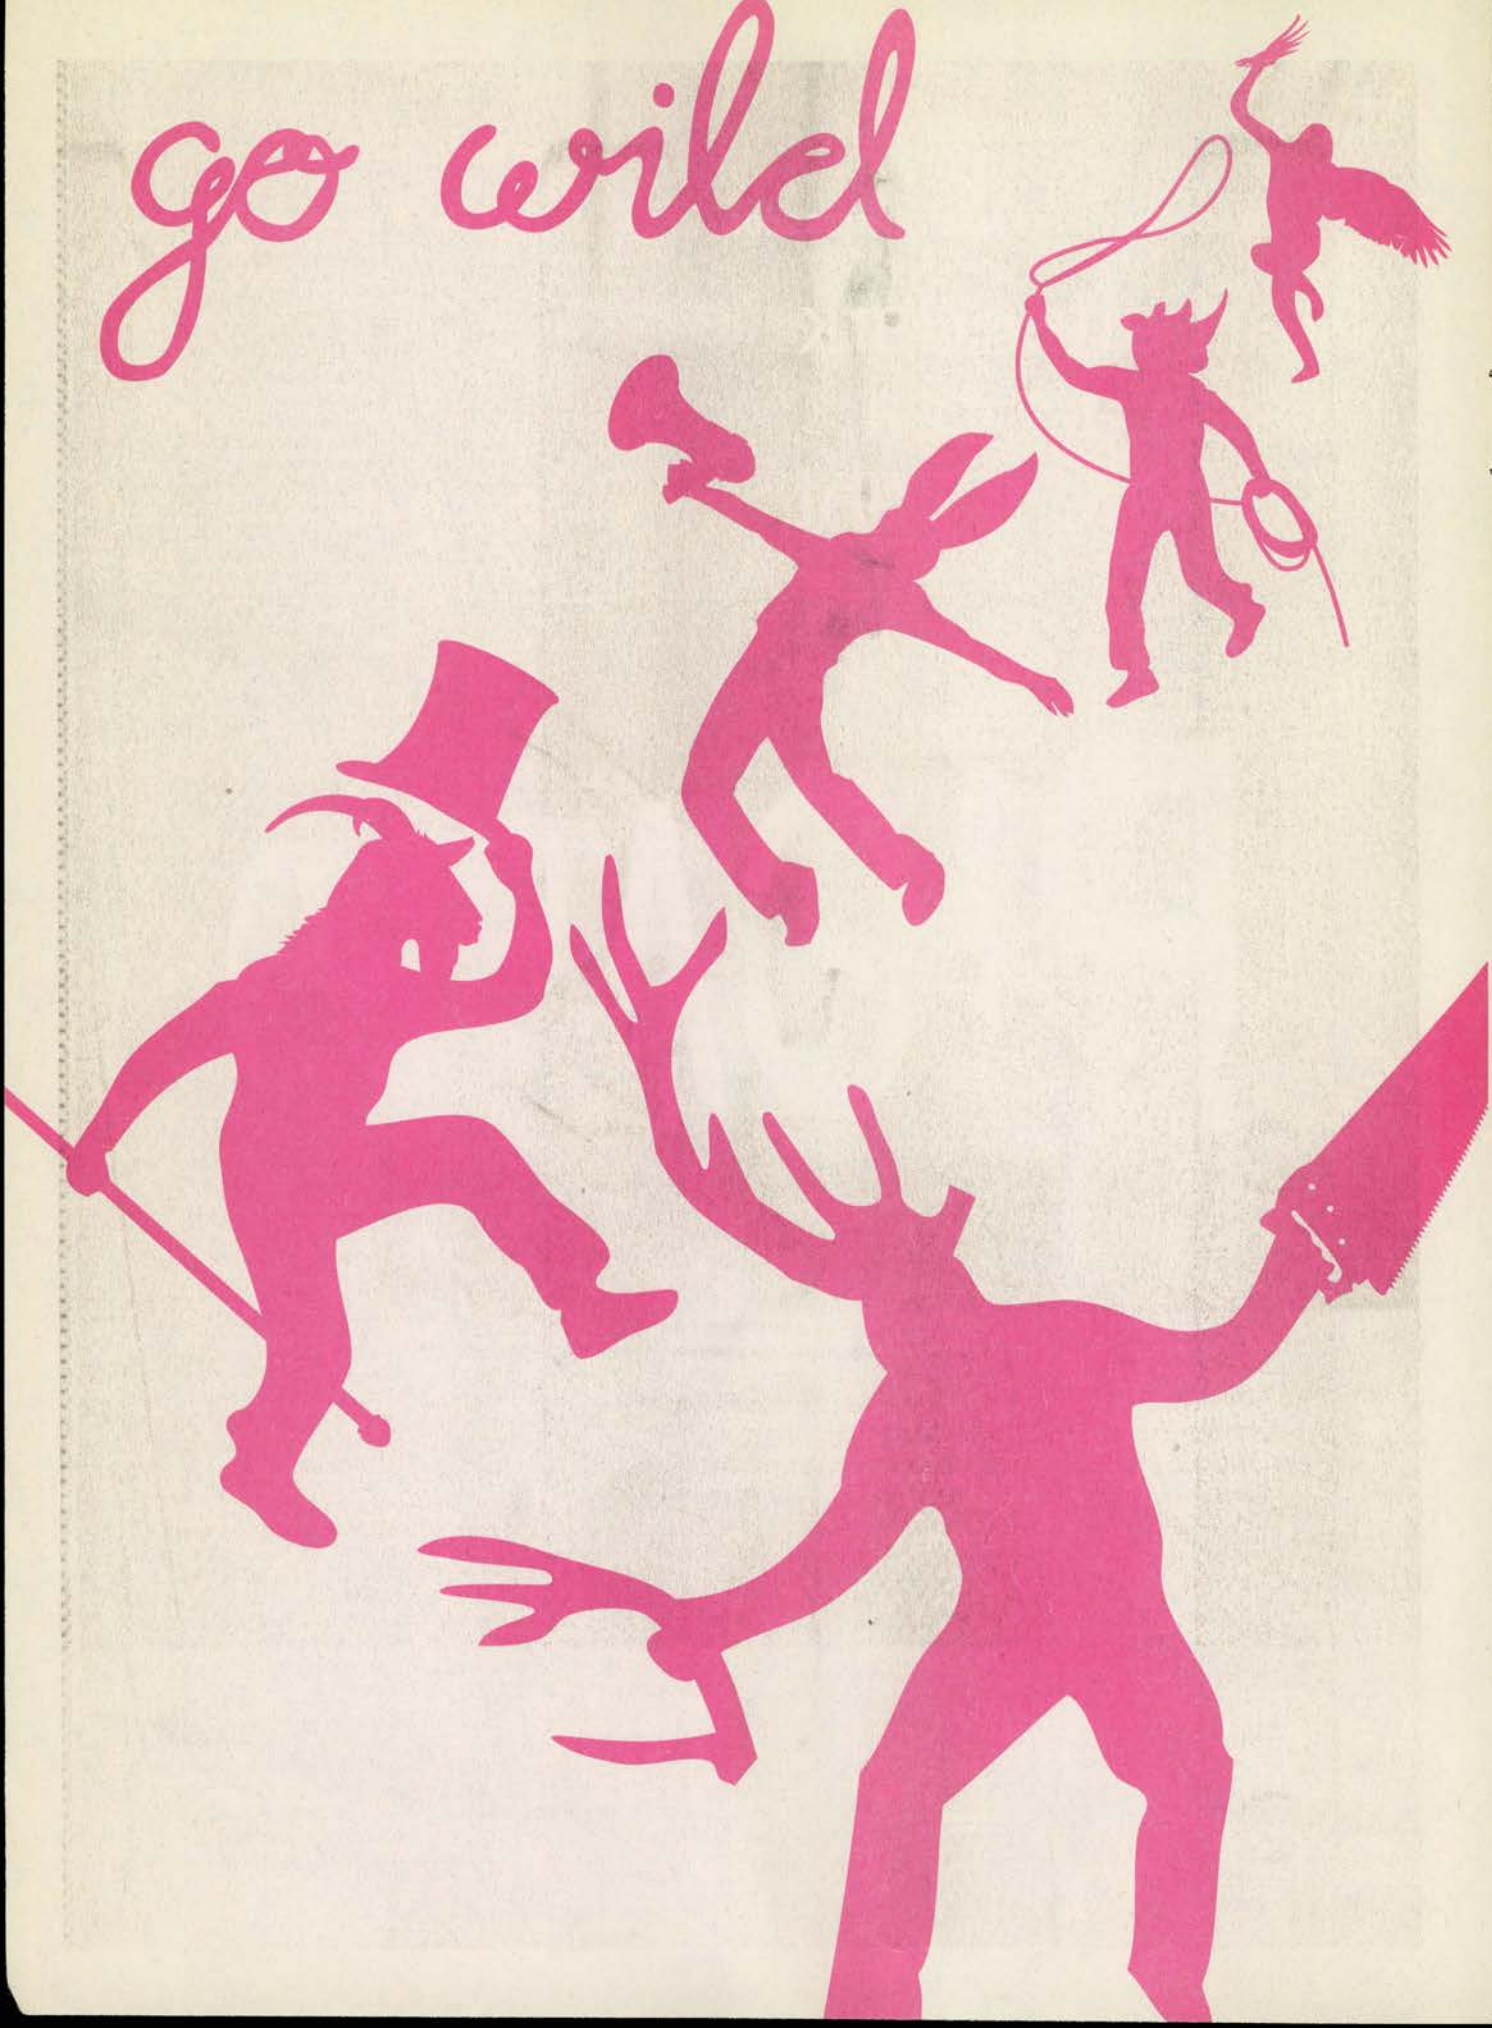

The Festival is one of Australia's most authentic reflections of contemporary arts practice due to the inclusive, open access approach and our ability to attract an impressive line up of emerging artists alongside established artists experimenting with content, form and presentation.

On behalf of the multi-talented Melbourne Fringe team I would like to thank the cultural industry of Melbourne; our artists, artisans and all involved in presenting an amazing smorgasbord of cultural delights. Thanks also to Arts Victoria, City of Melbourne, DHS and Vic Health for enabling Melbourne Fringe to support independent artists, not only during the Festival, but throughout the entire year.

So throw off your well worn winter coats, go wild and dive head first into the multitude of exhibitions and events across greater Melbourne - there truly is something for everyone...

Chasing Pegasus (a play in ten chords)

Fringe@Gasworks.org.au

Chasing Pegasus focuses on the continuing quest of humankind to become more than the sum of our parts. It is a celebration of what makes us different, and through that discovery, a recognition of what makes us ultimately the same.
